PEP Continues to Learn about Natural Gas & LNG

Natural gas supplies and prices continue to concern businesses everywhere, including those of us on the Gulf Coast. With these concerns come continued interest in the processes that might bring LNG to our locale.

As shared in past correspondence, and in a Letter to the Editor of the Mobile Register, PEP has sought an understanding of the Compass Point Studies conducted by Dr. George Crozier of the Dauphin Island Sea Lab. The results of these studies of marine habitats may impact the direction of ConocoPhillips as it seeks permitting for an offshore LNG terminal.

TORP made a presentation in December to the PEP Board of Directors on their HiLoad LNG Regas Technology. More information on TORP and their Bienville Offshore Energy Terminal can be found at www.torplng.com.

PEP will continue to seek scientific information that will lead to the best and most environmentally-sound solutions for sustaining our natural gas supplies.

We expect to hear much more about natural gas supplies at the upcoming Gulf Coast Energy Forum in Mobile on Monday, February 13, 2006. For more information call the PEP office.
